

In January of 2017, two entrepreneurs originally from small-town America came together, exchanged a handshake, and brainstormed ideas to create the best BBQ in Columbus, Ohio.

While our priority is to have the best BBQ in Columbus, a second priority is to positively touch the lives of inner-city residents through an authentic spirit of giving.

From a small kitchen in Franklinton, the oldest neighborhood in Columbus, Red Door BBQ is creating opportunities for the community while providing the best BBQ in Columbus.

Red Door BBQ will give back to the local community through donations, community involvement, and collaborations with local community and religious leaders.

So why the name Red Door BBQ?

Red stimulates energy, signifies love, and encourages positive action. A door symbolizes the transition and passageway from one place to another, an opening to a new opportunity accessible to all who walk through.
